And their 200 assistants who served as counselors, instructors, division heads, program specialists, water safety instructors, health and safety personnel, maintenance men, kitchen workers, drivers, groundsman, office workers, technicians, etc.

We are pleased to once again make available to our campers a memento of the past camping season which will help them relive the many exciting and poignant moments of a season that was packed with excitement, enjoyment and growth.

As in past years, new facilities have been added and new programs were introduced in order to insure that our campers will find new interests and fresh innovative activities each year that they return to Morasha. We do not rest on past laurels.

The 1980 season will see additional improvements and more new facilities. Most conspicuous will be the new educational campus in the library area. This is now under construction and when completed, hopefully in time for the opening of the 1980 season, will include five bungalows on a beautifully landscaped site, containing ten rooms to be equipped both as class rooms and activity rooms.

Also under construction is a new cabin for the boys Mechina which will replace the existing cabin, and boys bunks - 14 will be undergoing a complete renovation and will in effect be a brand new bunk by next summer.

The articles in this annual have all been written by the campers during the course of the 1979 season and have been published in Shalhevet, the camp's weekly newspaper. We trust that they will bring back fond memories.

H. C. CORNER

by Judy Landau in the H.C.

Listen fellow campers, and counselors too.
The following poem wants to teach something to you.

Everyone wants something that isn't theirs

You think others have no worries, no headaches, no cares.

You look at your job, you think it's a chore.

But others have jobs that they simply abhor.

The counselors have to get the kids to play.

The Day Camp staff must watch infants all day.

The division heads have to correct program mistakes.

Chaya and Larry work constantly without any breaks.

Waterfront staff must stand out in the burning sun.

The nurses take care of the sick and that's no fun.

The doctor's time isn't his own.

Office staff are constantly answering the phone.

Mr. Reich has the whole camp to worry about.

Which is a responsibility enough to make anyone shout.

And the campers have problems, some big and some small.

Just like the problems that plague us all.

So the moral, my friends, should be obvious, of course-

"The job you'd prefer may already be yours."

AREVUT

By: Claudia Marbach-Mechina

The commandment to love ones fellow man is regarded by Chazal as a fundamental principle of Yahadut. Rabbi Akiva said that the "Love thy neighbour as thyself" was the golden rule of the Torah. Love thy neighbour is not only a human command but also sanctifies G-d's name. Rabbi Simeon Ben Elazar said that there is a connection between "Love thy neighbour as thyself and "I, the Lord have created him. I am the one who will be sure to reward you; but if you do not I am also the judge who exacts retribution.

True love involves a complete identification with ones fellow man, a full understanding of his needs and difficulties, as if they were his own. Rabbi David of Lolov once told his students that a simple peasant taught him to what extend one should love ones neighbour. Once he overheard a peasant say "If you really love me you would surely know all my needs and problems.

NEW FURNISHINGS ADDED TO MORASHA

Two new basketball courts, a new building, three pianos, and new Beis Medrash chairs have been added to Morasha.

One court is on Machon campus and the other is on Girls'.

The new building is at the entrance to Girls' Campus. It is a combination storeroom and receiving office to handle all the equipment that is delivered to Morasha.

One of the three pianos is a baby grand, necessary for Morasha Productions in the new Gym.

In addition, the LTP - Kollel Beis Medrash and the Dining room have been furnished with new chairs.

MORASHA PLAYHOUSE NEWS

By Joe Berlin

The first camper production this season in the Morasha Playhouse will be the Ilanot presentation of the "Golden Slippers". A moralistic play which has several midos to teach us, it contains familiar music from the liturgy as well as popular numbers. Ilanot will star on Tues. and Wed., July 10th and 11th.

Less than one week later, Shtillm will appear in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." It was rumored that several staff members bribed some of the campers generously in order to have them give up their parts to staff members.

All rumors have not yet been completely checked out but the staff will be presenting Roger's and Hammerstein's "Carousel" on the August bill while LTP gives us their rendition of "Oliver".

Nitzanim will close July with "Ming Lee and the Magic Tree" and Alufim/Alufot head the August productions with "Yentyl".

See you on opening night.

STAFF PERSON OF THE ISSUE
RABBI DR. SHMUEL TOKAYER
 by David Shapiro-Machon

One of the many interesting staff members of Camp Morasha is Shmuel Tokayer, this year's head of L.T.P. He comes to us with varied educational experiences.

Rabbi Tokayer attended R.J.J. and Telshe Yeshivot High Schools and later studied in the "Gur Aryeh" Kollel of Yeshiva Chaim Berlin, where he was ordained.

After obtaining a B.A. and M.A. from Brooklyn College in Psychology, he attended the U. of N. Carolina where he was awarded a Ph.D. on a thesis pertaining to "Learning Styles".

He is currently employed as a psychologist in the Melbourne, N.J. public school system. His past experiences include being a Rabbi for 12 years in congregations in Queens and the South.

Shmuel was married in 1962. He and Chanie have three children.

In his analysis of L.T.P., Dr. Tokayer pointed out that the program is three fold. It serves to enhance personal growth by encouraging the "chaver" to assume responsibility and develop leadership potential, thus developing his own character. The second purpose of the program is to develop skills to be a good leader in the Jewish community.

The L.T.P. director pointed out that the members of Machon-Mechina are a carefully selected group. They are selected on the basis of the potential which each one possesses. It is hoped that during the course of the summer L.T.P. "chaverim" will obtain a sense of satisfaction with what they have accomplished. Machon-Mechina is unique in the sense that it is a synthesis of leadership and an opportunity to learn Torah and grow in Yiddishkeit. It is the latter that leads to good leadership.

We can be certain that Rabbi Dr. Shmuel Tokayer's extensive background has helped determine his policy in planning the Leadership Program and we can look forward to a very fulfilling and successful summer.

LTP MORASHA TEAM DAZZLES LAVI by Robert Richter - LTP

In a sparkling display of baseball ingenuity, the LTP boys defeated Camp Lavi softball team, 4-0. Through an amazing combination of Morasha Midot, Yirat Shomaim and Arevut, the Lavi team was crushed.

One shining star throughout the game was our beloved coach, "mean" Joe Frager. The paternal guidance which he gave to our team did not go unappreciated. Since the start of the summer, Joe molded us lovingly from a motley group of malcontents into Morasha's pride and joy. What a game! What a team! What a camp!

BEHIND THE BAKED GOODS

Many of us here at Camp Morasha take for granted many things. One of these high up on the list is the baked goods. Did you ever consider how much work and effort go into baking all of them or how many varied ingredients are necessary?

I was especially curious about how the delicious Shabbat cake is made. When I asked Moish de Baker, he refused to give the secret recipe. When I had an underground interview with the Mechina girls who work there, they seemed quite brainwashed and adamantly refused to give me even the slightest hint.

They did, however, tell me that working in a bakery is a "growing" experience. They told me that the part of working there which they enjoy most is the satisfaction of the way that the baked goods turn out.

Amidst laughter and grins, they told me that the toughest part of the job is the sneaking of food to their friends when Moish is not looking.

They revealed that besides their interest in baking they choose to work there because they have a crush on Shlomo, the baker's assistant.

LTP'er OF THE WEEK by David Shapiro

People from other countries always seem to possess a certain uniqueness and the LTP'er of this issue, Robert Knoll, is no exception.

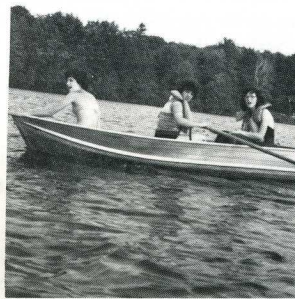

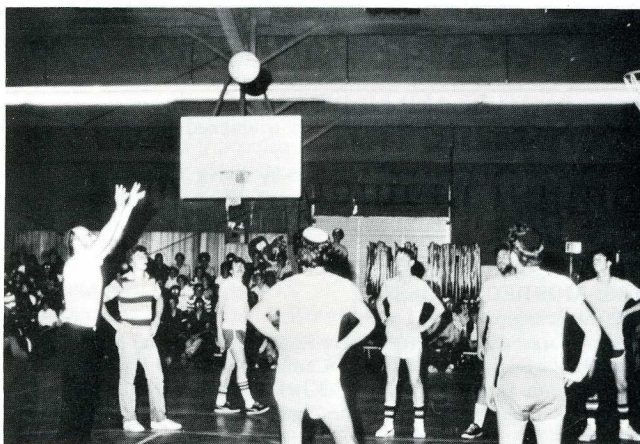

Knoll was born in Caracas, Venezuela and has lived there all his life. In an effort to inculcate in him a feeling for the English language, Robert's parents sent him to the Hebrew Academy of Miami, Florida.

The Jewish community of Caracas is estimated to have 2,000 orthodox Jews. There are three Yeshivot: Rambam, Bialik and Yavneh, and ten orthodox shuls in Caracas.

When asked for the difference between the United States and Venezuela, Robert replied "We have a lot of oil and you DON'T."

It is truly an honor for Camp Morasha generally, and LTP specifically, to have campers of the background of Robert Knoll.

ON AREVUT

by Rabbi Howard S. Wolk

In the weeks since camp began, Arevut has been the main topic of our classes and discussions. Arevut is a multi-faceted concept. It draws together one Jew to another. It suggests a responsibility that we owe one to another. Arevut can operate on a very personal level - a one to one relationship between people who are intimately involved in each other's lives.

Arevut or Achdut Yisroel manifests itself in large numbers as well. The sometimes undefinable, intangible bond between the Jews of America and the Jews of Iran; between those of Eretz Yisroel and Russia. We feel a deep allegiance to our brothers and sisters who are physically and spiritually persecuted.

But there is yet another form of Arevut. There is the form of Arevut which crosses not only countries and continents, but centuries and in fact millenia. We all feel a close bond with the Jews of Old. Perhaps no period of the calendar year better portrays the tie between the Jews of different generations than the "Three Weeks". We observe various degrees of mourning- culminating in Tisha B'Av- because we share the grief, the torment and the loss- both spiritual and physical- which the Jews of the Second Beit Hamikdash experienced. And we are not the first generation to put this feeling of Arevut into action. Generations before us have acted as we do. Our observances of the Three Weeks are not done in a vacuum. We are not introducing novel practices, but we bring to reality our deeply felt allegiance to brethren before us.

Whether in times of Simcha or in a time of national mourning, Arevut is an inseparable aspect of the total Jewish experience.

BOYS' GRATITUDE AND KINDNESS WIN

Hakoros Hatov and Gemilas Chesed triumphed this week in the Machzor Aleph Boys' Shelet Presentation Competition.

In a very close race, Bunk 2, coached by Akiva Tekuzener and Mike Zughaft, was the Nitzanim winner. Their shield and presentation beautifully portrayed the Midah of Hakoros Hatov.

Bunk 7, under David Jablinowitz and Avi Jacobowitz, won the Shtilim division with their portrayal of Gemilas Chesed.

STAFF PERSON OF THE WEEK

RABBI MORDECHAI BESSER

by David Schapiro

Camp Morasha is fortunate to have Rabbi Mordy Besser as our Program Director. Born in Tel Aviv, Israel, Rabbi Besser has been with Camp Morasha for 11 years.

The Program Director attended R.J.J.H.S. and Y.U. college where he received a B.A. in English and was later awarded a M.S. in History from Bernard Revel School of Jewish Studies. He is presently enrolled in Hofstra University in a doctoral program concerning educational administration.

Rabbi Besser was ordained at the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary of Y.U.

Mordy has been a teacher at the HANC school and was Ass't principal at Hillel and HAFTAR Yeshiva Elementary Schools. This coming year he looks forward to administering HAFTAR as the principal of the elementary school.

When asked about his feelings toward the camp, Mordy stated that Machaneh Morasha is indeed unique. Morasha attracts a high caliber of staff membership. The camp has a library which is used by all camp personnel, there is a staff Vaad, and the counselors have activities every night, including shiurim during the week.

It is truly to Morasha's unique benefit to have Rabbi Besser as its Program Director. He is responsible for very many interesting activities which are enjoyed by all. We are confident that Camp Morasha will continue to reap the benefits of the many hard and long hours which are invested in the programs of our camp.

NATIONWIDE SEARCH LEADS TO SCHWARTZ

by A. Reader

Immediately after Danny Behar, former Morasha technician (see Shalhevet V. 6) gave notice of his intent to leave Camp Morasha, Zvi Reich, Director, launched a nationwide, extremely intensive search for his replacement. This search led him to every village and city in the mainland, including Des Moines Iowa.

After an equally intensive search of the Des Moines orthodox community, Mr. Reich found Paul Schwartz. Paul is well trained in all aspects of sound, lighting and stage managing. He worked for two years for W.H.O Television in Des Moines.

Paul is looking forward to working and playing here at Morasha and we look forward to having Paul on our staff.

MORASHA SWEEPS LAVI, 51-31

by Mitchell Merlis

In the opening game of the season, the Morasha staff team was again victorious in an overwhelming 22 point margin.

Led by the early shooting of Mutt Liechtung, Isser Fruchter, and Louis Rohde, the Morasha team went up at half time by 22-16. During the second half, Paul and Mitch Merlis led another surge doubling Louis' output. Lavi struggled to close the gap but were foiled time and time again by the combination of Morasha inside strength and dazzling outside shooting. High scores for Morasha were M. Merlis 16, Paul 14, Isser 10.

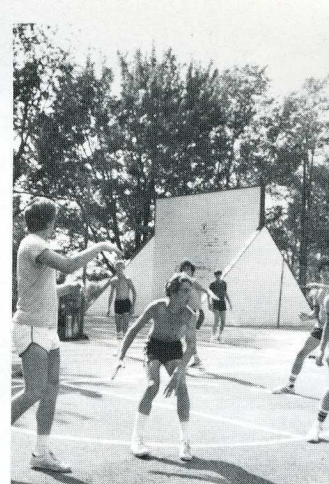

Morasha seeks to defend its undefeated streak in an upcoming game against Seneca.

WE ARE LTP

by a LTP member

In consonance with the conception of informal education that Morasha has made famous, and as part of the extensive leadership training program provided by the Y.U. camp, the men and women of the Machon travelled to our nation's capital to see our leaders operate and bang out policy decisions. The Morasha half-campers and half-staffers were encouraged at the Senate session which they attended and were amazed at how orderly a 3 - Senator meeting could be. The LTP also visited the Smithsonian where the more cultured saw the exhibits while the others paraded around the mall, which at first glance looked like a park. A highlight of the trip was the surprise engagement of Bill Cosby who agreed to perform for the LTP audience and invited 9,000 other people. LTP also visited "the biggest mall in the world" at Tyson's Corner. Tyson, an ancient Greek whittler, due to statements taken out of context, became one of the fathers of Middle American Capitalism. To round off the educational experience the Machon toured Kings Dominion an educational amusement park, and the Univ. of Pennsylvania Law School.

SHTILIM REACH STARDOM

by Dara Kanefsky, G1 and Cindy Port, G4

On Sunday July 1, nearly the whole Shtilim division were eagerly awaiting the results of the tryouts of the Shtilim play: Snow White. At lunch that day, the outcome was announced. We were very happy to find out that we were in the play.

After a couple of days we began to miss our daily rest hour, but it was worth it. On Monday, the 16th, after a lot of hard work under the wonderful direction of Joe Berlin, we were ready to perform the play in front of our first audience, Machzor Aleph.

As we started performing, we felt stage fright coming on strong, but after a while we calmed down and began to feel at home on the stage. We enjoyed ourselves fully both nights. We hope you liked watching it as much as we liked presenting it to you.

SHTILIM BEAT LAVI

by Elisha Tropper B7

On Tuesday, July 17, the Shtilim boys continued to win in Softball against Camp Lavi. Jeff Schoenfeld kept his record against Camp Lavi by pitching a 4 hit shutout. Schoenfeld's record is 2-0, a 2 hit and 4 hit ball game.

Paul Sutton, Andy Paskow, and David Kupchik each had a couple of RBI's and runs scored. Four catches by Andy Paskow, 2 running and 2 diving, helped keep the shutout.

The team, the softball All-Star team of bunks 7-8 got 19 hits. The final score was 11-0.

VISITOR BEATS GAS SHORTAGE BICYCLES FROM CONNECTICUT

The nationwide shortage of gasoline did not seem to affect the hundreds of motorists who drove into Camp Morasha last Sunday. Nor did it affect the visitor who cycled into camp on Tuesday after a three day trip from New Haven, Connecticut.

Adean Zapinsky, former Morasha waterfront head and staff classical play director amazed everyone with his cycling garb and travel tales. His head protected by a helmet and his rear view vision provided by a tiny mirror braced onto his glasses, Adean traveled an average of ten miles an hour.

"I thought it would be fun, but it was brutal" concluded the cyclist in reference to his trip. "It's the thought of going up the three mile hill that I came down that convinced me to look for a car ride to go back."

Equipment attached to the bike in a variety of travel bags, plastic bottles and tubes and rubber bands included a sleeping bag, a small mattress, a tent, long sleeve pants and a long sleeve shirt, spare parts for the bike and tools, a stove, lots of water, and peanut butter and jelly in toothpaste like plastic tubes.

And we never know why we are in a certain place for what. As Adean was setting up camp in Calicoon along the Delaware, he was approached by a group of young boys. "Can you join our Minyan? We only have nine." Adean became the tenth man for maariv and shacharis services of a group of Far Rockaway day campers out on a trip.

When asked if there would be a repeat voyage Adean replied that he still wants to go cross country by bike. "I'm only waiting for a meshugina to join me." Any takers? Contact the Shalhevet office.

FORMER COUNSELOR RETURNS AS DOCTOR

SHALHEVET welcomes Dr. Norman Klein, a former counselor to the Morasha staff. Dr. Klein is married and the father of two and a half year old twin sons. He comes from Bayswater, Far Rockaway and is the brother of last year's doctor, Howie Klein. MAY WE MEET HIM ONLY ON SOCIAL OCCASIONS!!!

NITZANIM STAR IN EXCELLENT PRODUCTION

Yoni Leifer as Ming Lee and Hadassah Colton as the Tiger led a starring cast in the Nitzanim production of Ming Lee and the Magic Tree this week in the Morasha Playhouse.

That a happy person is one who knows what he can do and does it the best way he can was the lesson the Nitzanim taught.

Directed by Sheryl Handelsman, Division Head, the play was excellently performed.

ABOUT A SIYUM

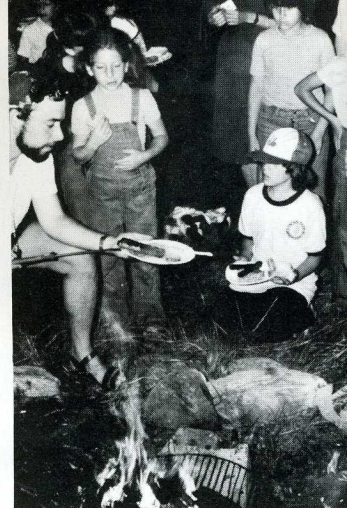

We abstain from eating meat and drinking wine during the Nine Days for two reasons. One, a person experiences simcha by eating meat and drinking wine. In addition, we recall sacrifices of the meat and wine which were suspended because of the destruction of the Beis Hamikdosh.

However, eating meat and drinking wine is permitted on Shabbat, and at a Seudat Mitzvah. A banquet in honor of learning a complete Mesechta of the Talmud or of a Seder of the Mishna is called a Siyum.

Not only may the person who completed the Mesechta or other work, his family and the waiters eat meat, but even relatives and friends, and since at Morasha, all of us are friends, especially of the Talmeidei Chachomim, we are all included.

This year Siyumim will be made by Zvi Reich, Larry Wachsmann, David Laks on Thursday and by Neil Maron, Danny Wolf, and Avi Simon on Monday.

PARSHAT DEVORIM - SHABBAT HAZONE

by Yosef Kanefsky H.S. Kollel

This Shabbat, Shabbat Hazone, we will read Parshat Devorim. Thus, we will begin reading the Tochocho that Moshe delivered to B'nei Yisroel before he died and before they entered Eretz Yisroel. The first posuk, as Rashi explains, mentions all the places at which B'nei Yisroel had sinned. Moshe is reminding B'nei Yisroel of their sins at this time for a specific reason. The previous generation was condemned to wander in the Midbar for forty years instead of entering Eretz Yisroel as had been planned, because of their sins. In order to assure that B'nei Yisroel does not repeat those Averoit and will indeed enter Eretz Yisroel, he reminded them of the fatal mistakes that their fathers had made.

As the Rambam says in Hilchot T'shuva one of the first steps in T'shuva is recognizing the Chet and making a Kabala not to repeat it.

Among the Chatoim that Moshe recounts is the Chet Hameraglim (spies). As the Gemara calculates, the night that the Meraglim returned from Eretz Yisroel with their misleading report and the night the Jews cried as a result of this report was Tisha B'Av. At that time Hashem said that since B'nei Yisroel had cried for no reason on that Tisha B'Av, in the future He will give them reason to cry on that date. This reason is obviously the two Churbanim Batei Hamikdash. And since we know in every generation in which the Beit Hamikdash is not rebuilt, it is if it were destroyed in that generation, we see that thus far, the Chatoim which caused the destruction of the Beit Hamikdash are still with us today.

However, if we take an example from Moshe and B'nei Yisroel and well look back at our Chatoim and try not to be ensnared in them again, perhaps we can be Zocheh to be the Dor of "Bo'u Urshu et Haaretz" through Beat Hagoel and Binyan Beit Hamikdash.

HOW I FEEL ABOUT BEING IN A PLAY
ETAN ORLIAN, B5, SNOW WHITE: "I had a nice, fun time being Sir Dandiprat Bombas, a klutz, tripping and falling over the stage. It took a lot of practice and I missed a lot of activities, but I still think it was worth it. In my costume I really felt stupid (just as I was supposed to).

After our second performance we had a cast party consisting of pretzels, potato chips, soda and nuts. Partly for that reason I will try out for the play next year and I hope you will too!

H.S. KOLLEL REFUSES TO GIVE UP: BEATS COLLEGE KOLLEL FOR SECOND STRAIGHT TIME

In search of revenge for their previous loss, the Y.P. College Kollel Basketball Team requested a rematch with the High School Kollel team. Since this time they wanted a referee, Rabbi Dan Wolf volunteered. Throughout the game, they were in the lead and it seemed as though they would be successful. In a game in which forty points wins, Y.P. was winning thirty-nine to thirty-one. However, H.S.K. was finally able to stop Y.P.'s "dynamic duo" of Scott Dodelson and Jeff Appel.

Led by Nati Helfgot, H.S.K. battled back to make the score thirty-nine to thirty-eight, and after a dozen missed shots, Shem-Tov Shapiro hit a fifteen footer to give H.S.K. the victory.

Rabbi Willig summed up the game by saying "I saw it but I don't believe it."

The high scorers were Jeff Appel for Y.P. and Shabsi Schrieier for H.S.K.

BEGIN NOT GUILTY IN LTP TRIAL

After much deliberation, the LTP jury in a 4-3 decision, found the defendant, Mr. Menachem Begin, not guilty of alleged terrorist activities against British military installations and civilian populations.

In their summary statement, the jury proposed two points that they felt were the primary basis for their decision. The first focused on the historical perspective, that of the wholesale murder of six million, the fight for SURVIVAL of the Jewish people, the fight for freedom and the establishment of a homeland. They would use any means at their disposal to ensure the existence of the Jewish people. Begin was a freedom fighter, not a terrorist.

The second point centered around the idea that a warning was either given or attempted by the Irgun before any action was taken. This eliminated any chance for a surprise attack and endangered the lives of many Jewish soldiers.

Mr. Begin, when contacted, expressed extreme gratitude and satisfaction upon the outcome of the trial.

SUMMER

by Helen Feit

Summertime is so much fun.

We dance and play and swim and run

We have baseball

And basketball, too

And Morsaha does it just for you.

The flowers bloom, the birds sing.

The sun shines down on everything.

The dogs bark, the cats "meow".

And what I think of summer is WOW!!!

D'VAR TORAH ON AREVUT

by Rachel Thurm, G 3

The Torah says "Lo Leganev Nefesh M'Yisroel" which means you are not allowed to steal a soul from a Jew. This does not mean taking the soul from a body, but hurting it. An example is the Jews who were taken from their homes by the Nazis. Even though some of them survived, they still may be afraid of walking alone. If all of us would be friends, nobody's soul will be hurt.

LTP BOYS BEAT LAVI

LTP Boys' Basketball Team avenged an earlier loss to Camp Lavi by soundly defeating the visitors 53-20. Before a screaming partisan crowd Morasha gave Camp Lavi a good lesson in team basketball.

Leading from the outset Morasha swept away and at one point led as many as 21.

Again balanced scoring was the key as Simmy and Eli Weber each scored 11 to augment Baruch Weinstein's game lead of 12.

LTP boys are now 4-0.

LTP GIRLS PLACE IN BASKETBALL TOURNAY

The Morasha LTP Girls' Basketball team placed second out of four teams in an invitational tourney this week at Camp Hillel.

Morasha headed Seneca and Tagola but placed second to Camp Hillel. The LTP girls are now 2 and 1 and look forward to a game with Camp Lavi in the near future.

MORASHA MASMIDIM MULTIPLY

Almost one third of the campus have volunteered to participate in the Morasha Masmidim Program, according to Rabbi Eli Lerner and Mrs. Landsberg, coordinators.

Boys and girls have signed up to do supplementary learning on their own in addition to their regular studies.

Each "masmid" will receive a letter of commendation to be sent to his school principal. MORASHA STAFF NIPS RALEIGH, 51-50

The Morasha Staff Team regained their winning form by defeating Camp Raleigh away on Tuesday night.

The Morasha team was sluggish after a long car ride and was down in the first quarter, 14-2. However, Morasha capitalized on their inside strength and battled back to lead by one point at half-time.

The third quarter saw the teams trading basket after basket. Mutt Liechtung and Louis Rohde controlled the tempo of the game and consistently stifled most of Raleigh's offensive attempts.

Raleigh's brother team of Jeff and Seth Altholtz was banging shoulders with Morasha's brother team of Paul and Mitch.

Normie Ringel, Raleigh's field general began to take control of the game early in the fourth. However, this time Morasha was not to be denied. With one minute remaining, the ball changed hands three or four times with the margin being one point. Raleigh went ahead and attempted to stall for the remaining 40 seconds.

They were successful, until with five seconds left, Isser Fruchter stole the ball right out of Normie's hands and laid in a beautiful basket for an amazing Morasha one point lead.

Raleigh's valiant attempt with two seconds remaining rolled around the rim twice and bounced harmlessly to the floor giving Morasha a 51-50 well deserved victory.

High scores for Morasha were 16 for Mitch and 12 for Mutt.

The Raleigh victory more than compensated for the first Morasha loss in summers to Camp Seneca Lake last Saturday night by a one point margin.

MENDEL THE MOUSE IN MORASHIA, TASHLAT

by LTP of CHINUCH

From the ranks of Boro Park,
To Lake Como, "P" "A"
Mendel the Mouse came running,
He schlepped all the way.

He packed all his blue shirts,
'Cuz Chinuch was his team,
With Jackie and Jakes as generals,
A happy boy he did seem.

Machanayim and B.B.V., he did play,
But the Shaltiel made his day.

This just goes to show you,
That learning beats all.
Because of this "Kuntz",
The Chinuch team won't fall.

He was a really good sport,
And he had the most fun.
'Cause Mendel the Mouse
Is second to none!!!!

A DRAMATIC REVIEW

by Joseph Berlin

In April, when we got off to a late start selecting plays for the 1979 season there was a great deal of apprehension about how dramatics at Morasha would survive all the changes in the production company. A new technician not only to theater work, but more importantly, totally fresh to the Morasha Playhouse, its equipment, its special requirements. A new person in any capacity needs an adjustment period to become familiar with the routines, the programming schedules, the camp itself and its layout.

Paul Schwartz arrived after the first week of camp, and after a few days of mountain air landed in the infirmary.

Then there was Elly Zomick, the legendary music department head who was not available for theater week in July. Could somebody else fill the void? Only time would tell.

A new choreographer, a different person doing costumes and scenery... would we all fuse into a workable group in so short a time? After all there were 6 different scripts to work with within 8 weeks.

In retrospect it's doubtful that any plan could have succeeded this summer with such circumstances. Some of the new staff fit into the program very well, others adapted less easily.

But we were sent a true blessing this summer, in fact several of them, and we are truly grateful and appreciative. With the cooperation of Esther Gross, Shifra Osofsky became our secret weapon, our storybook princess who arrived to save the day. Shifra spent a great deal of her own time making props, sitting through rehearsals, and working backstage, while making the director less of a potential nervous-break-down case and really enhanced each production.

Then there was Helene Wander, Allen Seidman, Claudia Marbach, Frae Delman and Shari Zachter whose assistance was invaluable.

And what resulted from all the assistance were some powerful and entertaining evenings, which were enjoyed by all. "The Golden Slippers" initiated the season with Ilanot starring in a lesson of "hashgacha pratit". Little Devoirele, (Emily Marbach) with no mother to look after her is guided by Sarah Bas Tovim (Shira Atik) while the Baal Shem Tov gives lessons in patience and "ve-ah-hav-ta le-ray-ah-cha" to Jew and non-Jew. Rea Zelefsky and Adam Kanefsky teamed as the rich, but spoiled aunt and uncle. Howie Kahn presided at the piano.

Less than a week later, Shtilim socked it to us with their rendition of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs". Each dwarf took on the character of his name, headed by Robert Gross as Doc. Their makeup was a highlight of the show as well as their song and dance numbers with Ari Hait as maestro. Each dwarf was a star and so were the leading characters headed by Helen Feit as Snow White and Etel Forman as the prince.

Nitzanim gave us a lesson in Pirkei Avot be what you are and do the best you can, and you will be happy. Their vehicle for this thought was "Ming Lee and the Magic Tree" a play done in traditional oriental theater.

Then there was Yentl (Gila Hartstein) who wanted a thorough Jewish education. She disguised as a boy and befriended her chavrusa played by Sarah Dobin and don't ask what problems she caused. The point is that Jews in the 19th century asked questions about Yiddishkeit. We, Torah observant Jews in the 20th century - al pi halacha - are the real answers to those questions. Still today many wonder and question. They must be given straight answers.

CHINUCH

by Bluma Vann, G-13

Chinuch is a very important factor of our lives as Jews. In our Sichah last Shabbat, my bunk reached the decision that without chinuch- there would be only one generation of Jews. After that no one would even know a single thing about being Jewish for they would not have learned about Judaism.

COLOR WAR?

by Michelle Engelman

Michelle Rapp - Chevra

Since we are both members of the Chevra team and Chevra means friendship we've decided to write about color war in the bunk. The word war may be used in the term color war, but its meaning is to win over others by having fun and not fighting. The games take place on the field but Arevut takes place in the bunk. So remember: No fighting and may the best team win!!

AREVUT

by Leora Adler - Chevra

Color War is good to exercise the concept of Arevut. When one is in the field playing sports against another team, good sportsmanship must be practiced. If people get excited over a few bad plays they should learn some self-control. Arevut is the concept of understanding your friends when their actions please you and when they do not please you. Don't let this point pertain only to Color War, but all through the summer!

MORASHANIKS COMPLETE FIRST AID

Movies, bandages, splints, stretchers, and tests have all been part of a multi-media First Aid Course taught this summer by Sylvia Dickman, Camp Nurse.

Fifteen boys and nine girls from Mechina, as well as a number of senior staff personnel have enjoyed the course in various classes.

A certificate will be awarded from the Red Cross to all those who have completed the necessary amount of class hours, done the required demonstrations and passed the final exam.

Sylvia, who gave the classes during her "off hours", teaches a similar course to nurses in Binghamton at Broome Community College.

Three Shtilim girls completed a course with Sylvia on taking temperatures, pulse, and respiration readings. They will also be awarded a Red Cross certificate.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS AUTHORIZES NEW ED. COMPLEX

A new Camp Morasha educational complex and activities center will be built as result of the meeting of the Morasha Board of Directors last Sunday. The new building will be located in the library area and hopefully will be completed before next season.

The Board also decided to have extensive repairs made on several bunks on the Boys' campus as well as the Girls' LTP bunk.

Boys' Mechina may have a new bunk and the old one remodeled into staff quarters.

The Staff House across the road on Machon Campus will be razed.

The Board was very pleased with the general progress of Camp Morasha and its development.

STAFF PERSON OF THE WEEK- MRS. CHAYA REICH

The Staff Person of this Week, CHAYA (Mrs. Zvi) REICH, is the first woman ever to have been associated with Camp Morasha. Even before the camp was purchased, she has been connected with its growth and development.

Although not all of us may know her personally, Mrs. Reich knows all of us- the names of everyone related to Camp Morasha, as well in most cases, our parents' names and even the schools we attend.

Because of her ability, experience, and efficiency, the entire commercial operation of Camp Morasha functions from her office, guided, of course, by the camp Director.

Her greatest source of satisfaction is to see the kids come through a summer at Morasha happy and healthy.

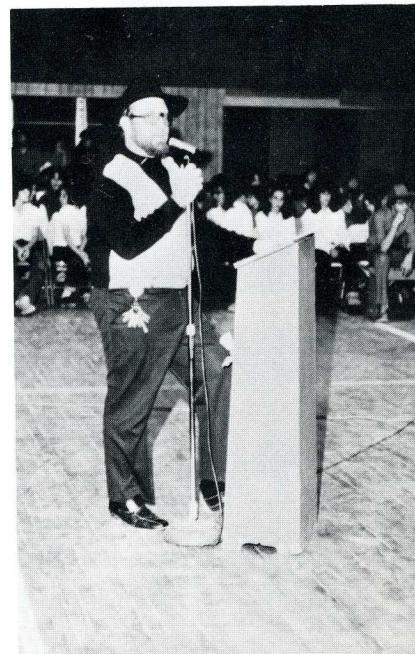

Mr. and Mrs. Reich are the parents of three daughters and a son, all of whom spent their summers maturing in Morasha and then serving on Staff. Their oldest, Penina, is listed on the Morasha Match Meeting List.

Mrs. Reich is extremely pleased with this year's office staff. "In spite of the fact that in the beginning we were shorthanded and everyone was new, the office functioned more pleasantly and efficiently than ever before."

Our "office manager's" advice to campers as they leave for home is to apply early for next year. Because of our top quality, dedicated, skilled, and caring staff, the waiting list for this season numbered 350.

Mrs. Reich looks back with great pleasure to the opening year of Morasha "when we all felt like Chalutzim on a new venture" and continues to be excited as progress is made in every area of camp development.

Camp Morasha is indeed fortunate to have Chaya Reich as its Office Manager.

CHINUCH TIES IN WITH AREVUT

by Sheldon Gertel B-17

Chinuch-education has a definite tie with this year's camp theme -AREVUT. It is our obligation to see to it that our brethren do not become lost to us and all of K'lal Yisroel.

You can ask "But how can we help them?" Through Chinuch, making sure that no Jew is ignorant and so loses his Jewish identity and assimilates.

The problem is prevalent in the U.S.S.R. Since in the Soviet Union it is illegal to practice any religion, (everybody is a Soviet citizen) Jews are not permitted to learn about themselves and their people or to go somewhere where they are allowed to do so, some of them are being assimilated and know nothing about their Jewishness.

We as Jews living in America are free to practice our religion. Therefore, we must try to help our Soviet brethren to emigrate to Israel and to do the same.

May we all be fortunate enough Im Yirtza Hashem to gather together with our Soviet brethren in Yerushalayim Habinuyah.

THE MEANING OF MORASHA

by Dan Hart B-7

Camp Morasha has meant different things to different people. For some, it's meant getting away from brothers or sisters, friends and parents. But for me, it has a different meaning. It has meant experiencing religious Judaism.

This is the first time I've really experienced religious Judaism. Before I came to Morasha I had really no idea of what being a religious Jew was like.

At first, I thought a lot of the kids would be different from me. I thought there wouldn't be any time for sports activities, and too much time for praying, but I was mistaken. I found out that there was plenty of time for sports. I also found out that the kids are friendly, and willing to help if there's a problem. But most of all they're basically the same as me.

MORASHIA — LOOKING BACK

Morasha this year was definitely one of the best ever. For instance, this was one of the first times we were all sticking together in the bunks, even though we were fighting each other on the field. You might think it would break up our friendships, but it has brought us all closer. We have studied together for Shaltiel and tried out new cheers on each other to see how they sound. We've even exchanged different color T-shirts! I think this was one of the most meaningful and joyous events of the summer. I'm glad to have been a participant of MORASHIA.

HIGH SCHOOL KOLLEL BEATS MECHINA

On Friday, a talented Mechina team faced a tough H.S. Kollel team in a basketball game on Machon campus.

Mechina, playing without injured players Howie Frank and Neil Schapiro, played an even first quarter. In the second quarter, Mechina began to pull ahead of the Kollel team and led by as much as six points in the middle of the quarter. However, the Kollel came back and led by two points at halftime.

The third quarter saw Kollel explode to a twelve point lead. With David Epstein and Howie Jachter totally dominating the boards, the Kollel offense surged to a great lead. While Yankie Feder hit a few fifteen footers, David Epstein and Shemtov Schapiro made dazzling inside moves.

The beginning of the fourth quarter saw a furious attempt to cut Kollel's lead. While Kollel had trouble breaking Mechina's full court press, the Mechina team managed to get within one point with one minute remaining.

However, Schapiro and Jachter hit some clutch foul shots to save the game for the H.S. Kollel. Yankie Feder and Shemtov Schapiro led Kollel with twelve points, and Andy Schein led Mechina with ten points. The final score of the game was Kollel 35, and Mechina 31.

MORASHA STAFF SWEEPS RALEIGH, 48-33

The Morasha Staff Team continued its winning ways by defeating Camp Raleigh in a defensive battle on Aug. 14. The game started slowly with both teams hesitant about driving the lane, wary of the opposing center's height.

Mutt Liechtung and Louis Rohde led Morasha in the first half, yet Morasha was still down at the half, 22-21. The third quarter saw a sparkling display of offensive talent. Behind inside scoring from Paul and Mitch Merlis, Morasha jumped out to a seven point lead. Raleigh fought back but our staff team was not to be denied.

A fourth quarter rally by the visitors was stifled by Morasha's sterling defense. Special mention goes to Hillel Davis for his ten rebounds and top-notch defensive work.

High scorers for the game were Mutt and Mitch with 12 apiece.

HIGH SCHOOL KOLLEL

by Bernard Simpser

As Jews, each of us has an obligation to devote every moment of his life to Torah and service to Hashem. In today's society, this obligation is hard to fulfill, but there are opportunities.

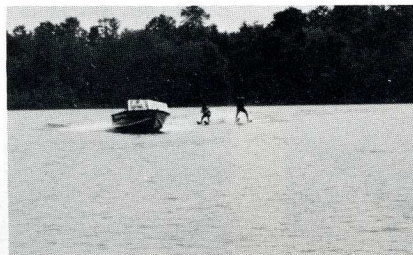

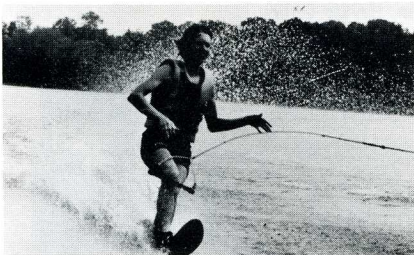

This summer I was privileged to stay at the High School Kollel of Camp Morasha. It was headed by Rabbi Yitzchak Cohen, one of our own Rabbeim. Many have heard about this Kollel; however, unless you yourself have been there and have experienced the learning, you cannot understand the true meaning and purpose of the Kollel. From dawn to dusk, we were involved in the performance of Mitzvot, as well as in the study of Torah. Even our sports activities seemed to take on a new meaning.

Along with the High School Kollel, there were also two College shiurim going on as well, in order to give college students the opportunity to learn during the summer.

It is impossible to describe the difference between learning in a classroom of twenty or thirty boys, and studying in the beautiful mountains of Pennsylvania, with that same number of bochrim. We completed the entire Tractate of Moed Katan, and we came home feeling proud that we had accomplished something this summer.

This past summer strengthened me, and gave me renewed confidence in myself. While making new friends, I was also able to re-examine myself and my Creator. It was just as reassuring to find other boys, like myself, who get real pleasure from learning a blatt of Gemarah. This gave me chizuck in my learning.

Kollel is an experience in which one has nothing to lose, and much to gain. It is the perfect way for every serious student to spend his summer.
